

BY THE Lords Justices General
AND
General Governours OF IRELAND.
A PROCLAMATION.

Charles Porter. Monrath. Drogheda.

Hereas there is frequent Occasions for the Marching of His Majesty's Army in this Kingdom. For the prevention therefore of any Disorders in such their March, We have thought fit by this Our Proclamation, to Will and Require, And do hereby Will and Require all Officers of His Majesty's Army, to give Notice in Writing under his and their hands, in their March, over Night, to the Constable of the Parish, or Chief Inhabitant of the Town or Village where such Officer and Soldiers under his Command shall Quarter, what number of Horses and Carrs he shall have occasion for the next day, for the Carriage of Ammunition, and of sick Officers and Soldiers, or otherwise disabled to March, and their Arms. And We hereby Require such Constable, or other Chief Inhabitant, to provide such Number of Horses and Carrs as such Officer shall Require, he paying for each Horse after the rate of One penny per Mile; And for each Horse and Carr for each Mile, for so far as he and they shall make use of such Horse and Horses, and Carr or Carrs, and that such Constable, and other Chief Inhabitant, shall take care to restore such Horse and Horses, Carr and Carrs to the Owners, on their return, and the reward for the Hire, which is immediately to be paid down to the Owner of such Horse and Horses, and Carrs, by the Officer Commanding the Party that shall give such Note ; And that no Horses or Carrs be pressed, but for the uses aforesaid, and be not carried above Ten Miles, or one days March. And We strictly Command and Require all Officers of His Majesty's Army, that they clear and pay their Quarters, and pay for such Horses as shall be provided for them before they March ; And that they take care that none of the Men under their Respective Commands, do any Violence or Injury to any of His Majesty's Loving Subjects, and that they give redress to any Person that shall make Complaint to him or them, of any Injury done them by any Soldier or Soldiers : And that they see that this Our Proclamation be duly Observed. And if any of His Majesty's Subjects shall happen to be Oppressed by any Officer or Soldier, and shall not have redress, on Complaint made, We hereby Require Every such Person to make his Complaint to the next Justice of the Peace where such Injury or Violence shall be Done and Committed, which said Justice of the Peace is hereby Required to take One or more Examination or Examinations, upon Oath, of such Injury and Misdemeanour, and Certifie the same to Us, or other Chief Governor or Governors of this Kingdom (in case the Officer Commanding such Party shall fail to give redress to the Person so Injured.) And We do hereby Declare, That We shall proceed against Every such Officer that shall Neglect his Duty, and not comply with this Our Proclamation, with the utmost severity. And We hereby Require the Sheriffs of the several Counties, Cities and Towns in this Kingdom, to cause this Our Proclamation to be Published and Affixed in the most Publick Places within their Respective Counties, as in such cases are usual.

Given at His Majesties Castle of Dublin the 4th. Day of December, 1696. And in the Eighth Year of His Majesties Reign.

By Their Excellencies Command.
